3 Shawn MacDonald Re: Policing on 6th Line in Caledonia

Mrs. MacDonald was present on behalf of her community and noted concerns related to policing on 6th Line in Caledonia. She described three specific events where the community was not supported by police services. Mrs. MacDonald posed questions regarding the lack of police presence and would like a formal response. Inspector Carter clarified that policing in this area was shared between the O.P.P. and Six Nations Police. Discussion continued regarding the process for reporting and responding to an incident in this area. Inspector Carter expressed his sincere apology that this agreement was not communicated to the residents and will follow up with them directly. The Board expressed concerns regarding the incidents. Chief Superintendent Cain requested that Mrs. MacDonald submit a formal response with the details of each incident so that the Commander can investigate and provide a more formal response. The Board was advised that as of last night, through negotiations, the O.P.P. are back to policing the 6th Line. It was added that, operationally, the O.P.P. have the ability and authority to arrange mutual aid with nearby police forces; however, professional courtesy should have been given to the Board and Mayor to advise them of these arrangements.

4 Chief Superintendent John Cain, West Region Commander Re: Occupation/Protest of the McKenzie Meadows Development Site

The Board stated that the purpose of this meeting is to express their concerns and dissatisfaction with policing in the community and with respect to the McKenzie Meadows occupation/protest. B. Corbett proceeded to read the statement from the Board on their position on the matter. Questions were posed throughout the reading to Chief Superintendent Cain. Discussion ensued regarding the definition of adequate and effective policing, land claim process, court process, police action related to the occupation/protest, and the indigenous police framework agreement. Chief Superintendent Cain noted that the policy speaks to First Nations communities and how the O.P.P. interact with them. The purpose of a police agency is to enforce the court injunction; however, the true resolution of the situation lies with Six Nations and federal and provincial governments. The Board stated that the framework needs to be revised and expressed concerns related to the arson, road blockages and violence. The Board spoke to their concerns related to the lack of officer availability/complement. Chief Superintendent Cain indicated that Haldimand is the worst with respect to officer availability in the west region. Specific to Haldimand, the O.P.P. are bringing in an extra 32 officers daily (16 per shift) to assist with the staffing issue. These officers are doing 50% of the calls and 30 hours of patrol in Dunnville. It was added that there are currently 12 officers slated to come to Haldimand with six recruits going through academy right now.
